Dear Friend:

I have just been going over this no good schedule, and trying to see how I can help myself a little. I note that we are playing in Washington, and you are playing in Baltimore August 26th. I thought if we do any good in Harrisburg August 4th, maybe we could go out that way after the 26th, for two or three days. Dr. Marshall is always talking about York, and I wondered if there were any cities around that way you might want to try and gamble with. I would really like to try Trenton, but I can't get anyone to go there with me. I don't think Gottlieb or Leuschner want to make Trenton a spot so they never encourage me to try it or won't send the Cubans or Yanks there. There are two dates I would like to give it a try August 9th or 22nd. Is there any chance you could come up there for either of those dates.

There must be some towns like these where we could go a few times a year near our home and pick up enough to make it worth while.

We are supposed to pick The Grays up in Altoona August 31st, so see if there are any spots out that way you want to gamble with, and I will go with you.

I am not going to the e-w game. Travel is too bad. Abe will be there and he has the statement so as to be able to collect what the teams owe. This rain has hurt us all, but we will just have to take it. After all that is baseball. I will be looking to hear from you.

Very Truly Yours
